

Reading

5D Luisa Leung

Many people have told me that reading is good, and they all suggested that I read more. Now I've made up my mind to improve my English because I want to get good grades in my HKCEE. So, I've started to borrow novels to read. The last few days I've been reading some books by Agatha Christie. I love detective stories, and hers are the best ones I've ever read. I never know who the murderer is until I read the ending, and it amuses me very much.

I've heard that many great people like reading. And I remember that one of my ex-classmates loved reading a lot. He was called Genglian. Genglian was like a machine which ate every kind of book you gave him. When he was bored in lessons, he would take out a book and finish it before the bell rang. Whatever I didn't know he would tell me. He always said that books were wiser than anyone else, and all his knowledge came from books. I was very fond of him, as he was clever and generous. Everybody liked him a lot.

I indeed believe that reading is good. It can be a very enjoyable hobby. Now I am experiencing it myself through Agatha Christie's books. Also, I keep telling my classmates to read more if they want to improve their English. Some are having a try, others keep being lazy. They have chosen their path, no matter where it leads, they have to face it. I have chosen a path that will be difficult to follow. I hope I can finish it soon, and I wish I could keep choosing my path. Anyway, who knows what will happen in the future?
