

A Love Letter

3A Yuki Lam

In my life,
Everything is a waste
Only you are left for me
No one can replace you
As you know!
I miss you every single day
And I need you all this time
If you are unhappy,
I'm willing to share your sorrow
I must stand by you
And make my mind with you
Thinking of us
With you holding me tight
Counting stars
Under the moonlight
How can I show you
For I love you so ?
I live in you smile
And dream of your touch
To you, my heart
Will always be true
I swear, upon our love
I'll never stop loving you!

Teacher's Feedback : There is a good flow of your true feelings in your writing. This reminds me the love legend of Titanic. Good work! (Mr. Louis Tsang)

Food For Thought : Wouldn't be nicer if you are able to use more metaphors in your free verse?
