

A Letter Of Advice

3B Yu Chi Wan

Dear Harry,

You say that you have nowhere to study. If I were you, I would do my work in the school library. In school, you can ask teachers if you have trouble doing your homework. There are reference books you can use. The library is always quiet so you can focus more on your work.

You say that the only desk is taken by your brother. If I were you, I would talk to him and see if you can sort it out. If your brother does not agree with you, then you must talk to your parents. They will help you solve the problem.

You say that you don't have enough money. You should get a part-time job. If I were you, I would be teaching small kids English.

You say that your friends don't like you anymore. I think you should talk to them. If I were you, I would explain to your friends the situation. Tell them you are short of money and you cannot go out with them! Ask them if they could go to places like the library or a basketball court where no money is required.

I hope this advice helps. If you have any problems, please write to me.

Best wishes.

Mrs. Wong

Teacher's Feedback : Always start with an introduction. Tell Harry how you feel about his problems. It is a nice piece of work. Well done! (Miss Chan Mei Ngan)

Food For Thought : True friendship involves a shared sense of caring and concern while expecting nothing in return; it involves share of thoughts and feelings without fear of judgment or negative criticism. Have you found one?
